Overview

2023

This Annual Report demonstrates the breadth of work being undertaken across the Church in Wales by local congregations to their church buildings. It also shows the commitment of the many volunteer specialists and experts who sit on Diocesan Advisory Committees and share their knowledge to help ensure works are undertaken in the most appropriate manner.

The Faculty System of the Church in Wales is a robust system of controlling works to church buildings which seeks to balance the heritage value of these building with the mission priority of the Church. In 2023, the Bishops of the Church in Wales commissioned Professor Norman Doe to undertake a review of the Faculty system to ensure it is:

- Straightforward to understand and use by applicants
- Sufficiently rigorous to meet our obligations under Ecclesiastical Exemption
- Sufficiently suitable and rigorous to meet the Church's own requirements for ordering worship and other church activities

- Not unnecessarily bureaucratic or administratively cumbersome
- Appropriately consultative to ensure key stakeholders are involved
- Enabling timely decision making
- Enabling action on climate change to meet net zero carbon targets in accordance with the Governing Body resolution of April 2021

The review will also consider whether the Church in Wales should continue to benefit from Ecclesiastical Exemption. The review will involve substantial research and consultation with key stakeholders, with Professor Doe's recommendations being presented to the Church in Wales Governing Body in April 2025.

During 2023, it is noticeable how churches are starting to grapple with the challenge of reducing their carbon emissions in response to the Church in Wales' target for reaching Net Zero by 2030. As heating systems need replacing, energy audits are being commissioned to help discern the best options, albeit that sometimes renewing with gas-based systems is the only affordable alternative. The Grade II* listed St Cynwyd, Llangynwyd, Maesteg in Llandaff Diocese successfully installed under pew electric heaters and, thus, significantly reduced the Church's carbon footprint. In St Asaph Diocese, St Peter's Church in Llanbedr Dyffryn Clwyd near Ruthin, became the first church in Wales to achieve their Gold Eco-Church Award under the A-Rocha Eco Church award scheme. A second

Gold award was made to St Sadwrn, Henllan, Denbighshire in early 2024.

To help understand the carbon footprint of our church buildings, the Church in Wales launched an Energy Footprint Tool in 2023 which enables churches to record their energy use and understand their carbon emissions better. This tool will help local churches track their progress towards net zero and facilitate the targeting of resources for maximum impact.

To assist with the Climate Change Challenge the Representative Body of the Church in Wales amended its Church Grant Scheme during 2023 to ensure all funded projects must have a clear environmental focus and contribute to reducing carbon emissions. The Church in Wales also encourages participation in Churches Count on Nature which provides an opportunity for the public to survey and record the brilliant biodiversity in many of our churchyards.

Meeting the net zero target is very challenging for local churches alongside the many other demands on time and resources, but many are using activities to combat the impacts of Climate Change as missional opportunities to engage with communities in new ways.

WHAT and WHO is the Cathedrals and Churches Commission?

The Cathedral and Churches Commission is an independent body within the Church in Wales. It has a wide remit (see below), although its principal role is to advise the Representative Body of the Church in Wales, Diocesan Chancellors and Diocesan Advisory Committees on works to cathedrals and nationally important listed churches. Its members are practising and retired professionals who have a wealth of experience with historic buildings, architecture, building conservation, archaeology and art history. Its principle duties are to:

- Advise Diocesan Chancellors, Registrars or Diocesan Advisory Committees on faculty applications relating to a cathedrals and churches
- Advise any member or body of members within the Church in Wales on the care, conservation, maintenance, repair and development of a cathedral or church
- Monitor the operation of the faculty system including the operation of Diocesan Advisory Committees, faculty procedures and the Ecclesiastical Exemption process
- Advise the Representative Body on its built heritage
- Advise on the potential disposal of church treasures aided by professional consultants.

Closures and Redundancies 2023

Once declared redundant, churches become the responsibility of the Representative Body rather than the local Ministry or Mission area. The Representative Body endeavours to find a suitable new use for the building by sale or lease. Closed church officers are employed to manage the buildings until disposal including health and safety issues.

The Representative Body makes an annual donation to the Friends of Friendless Churches alongside an annual grant from Welsh Government. This enables the Friends to receive important listed church buildings but the numbers of buildings they can receive is limited. We are currently exploring with them the potential for transfer of several redundant churches.

We also endeavour to work with community and heritage groups to lease closed churches for community purposes, although these schemes can take many years to come to fruition given legal and funding constraints.
